U. S. DESTROYER IS TORPEDOED JACOB JONES SENT DOWN IN NORTH ATLANTIC

THE DISASTER BRINGS TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE THE FIRST NAVAL LOSS OF CONSEQUENCE SINCE THE COUNTRY ENTERED THE WAR. TWAS PROBABLY "CHANCE SHOT" FIRED BY SUBMARINE IN THE DARKNESS WHICH STRUCK NEWEST AND MOST MODERN OF UNITED STATES DESTROYERS IN VITAL SPOT, PROBABLY BREAKING HER IN TWO. PLUNGING INTO THE ICY WATERS OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC CARRYING ALL HER CREW. COMMANDER DAVID WORTH BAGLEY, BROTHER OF MRS. JOSEPHUS DANIELS, IS FEARED LOST.

Washington, December 8.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—Torpedoed in a night attack, the American destroyer Jacob Jones, one of the newest and largest submarine hunters, was sunk Thursday night in the war zone and two-thirds of her crew were lost.

The disaster brings to the American people the first naval loss of great consequence since the country entered the war.

The complement of the Jones in peace times was 5 officers and five petit officers and 87 enlisted men. Undoubtedly this had been increased to 100 or more.

From the first report it would appear the loss of life is near 60 and it is feared Lieutenant Commander David Worth Bagley, brother of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, went down with his ship.

The attack was delivered by a torpedo. In a rolling icy sea of the North Atlantic winter weather the submarine probably had plenty of opportunity to pick her time for the shot. The submarine probably came upon the destroyer patrolling her course in the dark, and had all the best of the engagement.

When a submarine gets a hit on a destroyer it is due more to a chance and good opportunity than fighting skill on the part of the submarine.

The loss of life would indicate that the submarine made a fair hit on the destroyer's hull, and that the submarine hunter probably was blown fairly in two. That she went down quickly is evident by the fact that nothing is said of survivors getting off in life boats. Those saved got off on rafts, which probably floated off the sinking ship as she plunged down into the icy darkness.

Washington, December 8.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—The American destroyer Jacob Jones was torpedoed and sunk in the war zone on Thursday with a loss of a large part of her crew. Thirty-seven survivors were taken off on life rafts.

The names of the survivors follow: Lieutenant John K. Richards, Ensign Nelson N. Gates, Assistant Surgeon L. Adamkiewicz, Charles E. Pierce, a fireman; Timothy Twomey, a seaman; John C. Johnson, a seaman; Henry A. Stutzke, chief machinist's mate; Edward F. Grady, fireman second class; John J. Mulvaney, a seaman, and Myron Flood, a seaman.

The sinking occurred at 8:00 p. m., and while the ship was on patrol duty. She was commanded by Lieutenant Commander David Worth Bagley, a brother of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy.

Commander Bagley's brother was the first American officer killed in the Spanish-American war.

The Jacob Jones was the ship which saved 305 persons from the Orama, a P. O. liner converted into an auxiliary cruiser on October 19. The Orama had been torpedoed by a submarine while she was acting as part of a convoy of merchant vessels carrying an escort of American destroyers. The Jacob Jones was one of the convoys.

Arch Leedy, of Newark, O., was a machinist on the ill-fated destroyer Jacob Jones, according to advices from that city.

OHIO MEN AMONG THE LOST.
The name of George Dolezal, a water tender, of Cleveland, O., appears in the list of names of the crew of the ill-fated vessel.

His name has not yet been announced among the survivors. Leedy, who was only 17 years old when he enlisted, has been in the United States navy for two years.

GREAT STORM RULES DEVASTATED HALIFAX

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Truro, Canada, December 8.—Additional relief for the suffering thousands in Halifax was dependent today upon the weather. The great snow storm dominated the situation.

Almost every hour brought word of a relief train stalled in huge drifts piled up by the gale along the railroad line between Moncton, New Brunswick and Halifax.

One train with doctors and nurses from the United States aboard, was caught 30 miles from the Nova Scotia border. Another which left St. John's Thursday night with doctors, nurses and relief supplies ran into a tremendous snow bank 20 miles from Truro.

Word came from Halifax today that the condition of many of the injured was very serious, and that there was not enough doctors to give them needed treatment. The most imperative need was said to be more physicians.

Some 300 persons suffering of all kinds of injuries are being cared for in improvised hospitals in Truro.

Windsor, the only other large town within easy railroad communication with Halifax is caring for 300 more.

4,000 PERISH

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Amherst, Nova Scotia, December 8.—An estimate of 4,000 persons dead in the Halifax disaster is contained in a private telegram received today by an undertaking firm here.

A. P. ESTIMATE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Halifax, December 8.—(From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press)—The Massachusetts relief train that left Boston Thursday night arrived here today. There is no way of estimating with any degree of accuracy the number of dead as a result of the explosion Thursday.

Fifteen hundred dead is the generally accepted figure by the authorities. In one morgue there are 300 bodies.

AMERICA'S DECLARATION BRINGS HOPE TO ITALIANS

Comes at a Time When Italy's Arms Are Hard Pressed by Invaders.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

America's declaration of war on Austria-Hungary comes at a moment when the Italian northern front between Asiago and the Brenta is being pressed by the Austro-German armies. The adoption of the declaration by Congress with only one dissenting vote and its signing by President Wilson probably will be a great moral help to the people of Italy, and especially to the heroic troops in the Trentino.

ROUNDING UP ALIEN ENEMIES IS UNDER WAY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, December 8.—The round-up of Austro-Hungarian enemies began today throughout the United States with agents of the Department of Justice being assisted by local authorities.

With the declaration of war more than a million subjects of Austria-Hungary living in the United States were added to the list of alien enemies.

Inasmuch as many of them, although Austro-Hungarian subjects, sympathize with the United States and allies, the government is confronted with a task of much difficulty in giving them proper consideration.

COLONEL HOUSE AND U. S. WAR COMMISSIONERS IN THE U-BOAT ZONE

MARKED LULL IN FIGHTING

By Associated Press Dispatch.

There is a lull in the fighting around Cambrai and the Germans have made no attack in force against the new British positions. North of La Vequerie British troops have captured German trenches and improved their lines in this neighborhood. Hebron, southwest of Jerusalem, has been captured by the British forces.

It is reported that all American citizens in Jerusalem have been removed.

The guns are silent and soldiers are idle along the entire length of the eastern front from the Baltic to the Black Sea, the Roumanians having joined the Russians in their armistice negotiations with the Central Powers. The Russian government announces the negotiations have been halted for seven days to give the Allies an opportunity to express their attitude.

EGGS

Are your hens laying? If not you are losing money every day. Feed is expensive and why feed a lot of hens that don't lay?

Eggs are now selling at 50 cts. to 75 cts. a dozen in the cities and they may reach $1.00.

People who fed the famous "Prescription No. 4" to their hens last season are stocking up again this season. It will fill your egg basket if properly fed, and no person with a half dozen or more hens should be without it this winter.

"Prescription No. 4" forces hens to lay and keeps poultry healthy. A hen can be made to lay out her entire life crop of eggs in one or two years instead of being five years at it. The present world's record is 332 eggs for one hen. Many hens do not lay one-third that number. If you desire more eggs than you ever got before this season of the year, try "Prescription No. 4," the sure egg producer.

We can show you many testimonials from chicken farm owners, including the following from the manager of the great Hartman Poultry Farm at Columbus.

"Columbus, Ohio.

"It is a wonderful egg producer and feed saver as well. Many of our hens laid right through the moulting season, thanks to your Prescription No. 4. We have a capacity for 20,000 layers and intend to use it throughout our plant.

PRACTICE MARCH THROUGH GEORGIA BY MAX G. DICE

Former Member Herald Staff Now With the Regular Army at Chickamauga, Georgia, Writes of Camp Life.

Among the most interesting maneuvers in the school of the soldier and a most practical method of training is the practice hike. Although it is with little enthusiasm that the average rookie greets the announcement that a long march is to be made, his first real taste of the privations of the real wartime campaign, comes with his first practice hike.

Resorting to regimental slang for more effective phrasing, more than 500 boys of the 17th "snapped out of it" when the warning notes of "First Call" sounded fifteen minutes for the event. Much work is to be done before departure and the start must be made promptly at 8 o'clock. After breakfast, the blanket rolls, containing two blankets, one shelter half with poles, rope and pins, soap, towels, comb, tooth brush, underwear, socks, and shoe laces (nothing more) is made by each man and loaded on to the combat wagon of the particular company to which it belongs. Other equipment, including haversack, mess kit, canteen, cartridge belt, poncho, and rifle must be carried about the person of the soldier. A pretty fair load, but so distributed that no burden is felt by the marcher. Somebody must look after the Commissary and still another detachment must look to the medical needs of the Train, and the latter is no small item, for there will be many blistered feet or a sprain or so per chance.

The order of march is prescribed. The Commanding Officer, mounted, leads off the column. The Combat wagons and an ambulance bring up the rear.

The late autumn sunshine on Chickamauga Park was brighter than usual on the morning of November 21st, and the air was crisp and invigorating. More than five hundred pairs of feet were exceedingly light and felt as if they could march forever. Many found that feelings are often deceiving as Jimmie's appetite was on Thanksgiving Day. Many of the boys whistled as they marched along and all were in the best of spirits. After three miles came the first rest period. Why did it come so soon? The boys had scarcely gotten their legs stretched yet and they were still in the Park. The march to this stage was most interesting, past historic landmarks designated by scores of monuments and bronze tablets narrating the activities of September, 1863 leading up to the great battle fought on the very spot over which these spirited khaki clad boys of the New Army were proceeding. The trees, "the silent sentinels of the Past," told most vividly of all about the bloody struggle enacted here. Nature had been unable to close the myriad perforations in their bark caused by the bullets of the opposing armies.

"We'll sing it as we used to sing it, fifty thousand strong, as we were marching through Georgia." As the column rounded the bend in the road and passed from the Park into the broad Dixie Highway, five hundred voices raised the chorus that swelled to reach the farthest farmhouse from the road side. But they did not sing "Marching Through Georgia." That is one of our beautiful American fireside songs that will never be popular in Georgia. But somebody started "Dixie" and "Dixie" it was with enthusiasm.

Nature does not paint so lavishly with the autumn tints in Georgia as she does north of the Mason-Dixon line. Many of the leaves turn a russet brown, but refuse to fall. All winter long they feebly hang and rustle in a ghastly manner with each winter's wind. The growth of evergreens is so abundant that the landscape never has the appearance of real winter. Over these brown hills and through the fields of withered cotton stalks, the 17th marched away to Catoosa Springs and the rifle range.

'Twas not a forced march in reality, for the distance was but sixteen miles and the time was only limited by the hours of daylight. "Over there" much longer hikes in much shorter periods of time will be necessary. At noontime with more than a ten mile stretch of Dixie Highway at their backs, the column halted for sandwiches and the canteen's welcome refreshment.

Catoosa Springs, like all summer resorts, the scene of great activity during the warm months of the year, is even more desolate in the winter probably on account of the numerous traces of the summer boarder all about. The deserted hotel and the whitewashed cottages about it showed the effect of a hasty departure by the vacationers who persist in leaving destruction in their path. The score or more of springs in the valley at the foot of a winding and well worn path leading down two hundred yards or more from the hotel bubbled unceasingly and unhindered by the winter winds and the absence of human life lolling about in the springhouses. Of course, each season's mob had changed somewhat the walls of these artistic structures. There is a tradition that long lost lovers are often reunited by these mural inscriptions, the products of idle minds.

The rifle range is located in a hollow about one-half mile from the hotel. The rapid fire reverberated again and again through the mountains, much as said the bowling balls of the dwarves somewhere up in the Catskills on the eve of Rip VanWinkle's sensational nap.

The rookies in the regiment, when given their first introduction to the pleasant pastime of rapid firing at a range of six hundred yards, found out for the first time in their lives that rifles aren't the only animals that kick when tampered with. One stands a fair chance of blocking the reaction when standing erect, but firing from the prone position presents new difficulties. No records were broken, but a number of the boys qualified as sharpshooters and marksmen. When a man's work was pronounced as utterly rotten, he stood a fair chance of being appointed K. P., which in army language means kitchen police, including a multitude of duties, ranging from peeling spuds to rustling pots and pans, for the ensuing period of twenty-four hours. Naturally a few boys of a regiment realize the necessity of someone doing this work, and are anxious (not) to do their part. Even with all the wide shots and defective sights, the receiving end of the safest place in the world for a company or so of "Deutsch."

The nights were very comfortably spent in squad tents, heated with stoves especially constructed to heat the atmosphere around the end of the stovepipe projecting two feet or more through the top into the night, and to devour wood at a rate proportional to the average soldier going south with griddle cakes. But this is no fable. Pancakes are as rare in the army as powder puffs.

Hash was abundant three times a day as customary, served from tubs by the use of dippers, and conveyed to the palate via mess kits and large aluminum spoons or blunt forks. The woodpile proved to be an excellent dining room. One could by different arrangement of the blocks and rails, prop his vitals up at the most convenient altitude. Meals were often embellished (in case the patients were provided with the almighty coin) with soggy custard pie or specific gravity cake, furnished in generous cuts and surprising large quantities, for a pitance, by farmers' wives of the neighborhood who had discovered for the first time in their lives that rotten cookery and a business head could be coupled for a nice profit. Times are hard, and the old man must have smokin' for his winter's hibernation. We were proud to assist in "keeping these home fires burning."

The week passed all too quick for the profiteers, but it was a bright sun that shone on the little camp on the day of departure. We were returning to the luxury of the camp at Chickamauga. After all, we're glad we had the opportunity to make the trip. It is these little experiences that we shall ever cherish as the gems in the monotony of camp life. BIRTH OF A NATION GREATEST PICTURE EVER SHOWN IN CITY

The large audience which saw the great military spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," at the High School auditorium Saturday morning and afternoon, unhesitatingly pronounced it the greatest picture ever shown in the city, and the countless stirring scenes in the noted picture leave a profound impression upon old and young alike. It is being shown under auspices of The Wonderland Theater.

Both the morning and afternoon audiences were very gratifying. In the face of the heavy snow, and the final performance at 8:30 tonight is expected to draw an even larger audience, the two previous shows thoroughly arousing the citizens in general as to the importance of the picture. Many persons who witnessed the picture when it made its memorable run in Columbus and other large cities, were among the first to see the picture today, eager to witness its stirring scenes once more. The orchestral work also is a source of great pleasure and adds effectiveness to the picture.

The production was staged by David W. Griffith and was suggested by Thomas Dixon's famous novel, "The Clansmen."

The play contains 5,000 scenes; presents 18,000 actors and 3,000 horses; cost $500,000 for actual production expense, and took eight months to produce. The story is divided in two acts and the total time of performance is 2 hours and 40 minutes.

The picture shows some of the greatest battles of the Civil War, reenacted. A reproduction of Atlanta as it was in 1864, built up to be destroyed by fire, in the picture of Sherman's march to the sea. Lee and Grant shown at Appomattox; Ford's Theater, Washington, reproduced to the smallest details for the Lincoln tragedy. Reconstruction pictorialized in the actual South Carolina scenes, climaxing with a series of wild Ku Klux Klan rides that commanded a country for a day and cost $10,000. Night photography of battle scenes. Wonderful artillery duels in which real shells are used. Miles of trenches, thousands of Confederate and Federal fighters—"war as it actually is."

Artistically, "The Birth of a Nation" combines exquisite domestic comedy and romance with the grandeur and thrill of history's greatest moments, inculcating the lesson of patriotism that spring from the "nation re-born" as the result of War between the States and Reconstruction.

SERVICE FLAG FOR THE ELKS

The Washington Lodge of Elks is preparing a service flag with nine stars, which represent the number of members of the order who have enlisted and are now in the service of the United States. It is expected that other stars will be added in the near future.

LOCAL MAN LOSES ROLL TO COLORED CROOKS ON TRAIN

Alvin Lowe Complains to Police that Pair of Crooks on Train Swiped Roll of $55 While He Slumbered—Clew Is Found in Suit Case Left on Train.

While on his way from Pittsburg to this city, Alvin Lowe was relieved of a wallet containing $55, by two negroes who are said to have boarded the train between Pittsburg and Columbus, according to word reaching the police Saturday morning.

After changing cars in Columbus, where the negroes followed him, Lowe went to sleep. He was suddenly aroused and saw one of the negroes leaving the car. This was at Mt. Sterling. Thinking nothing of the affair, Lowe went to sleep again. On arousing a second time he examined his pockets, and discovered his loss.

When he arrived in this city he notified the police. In making their getaway the negroes left a small suit case. On opening it at the police station, it was found to contain an assortment of work clothes, two railroad passes, and five bullets of .38 caliber, which indicates that the negroes probably were also hold-up men. Chief Moore has a sufficiently good description to land the robbers, and to speedily convict them, it is claimed. He has communicated with the Columbus police, who are looking for the thieves.

LECTURE-SONG-RECITAL DRAWS GOOD AUDIENCE

The opportunity to hear Mr. Samuel Richards Gaines, composer, organist, and instructor, and Mrs. Gaines in Lecture-Song-Recital, who contributed to the Cecilia concert course the second number at the High School Auditorium, Friday night, was an audience gratifyingly large for the inclement night.

Miss Edith Gardner, President of the Club, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Gaines after making the announcement that the Culp Quartet, of Cincinnati, would present the third concert on January the fourth.

Mr. Gaines is a well known master of his profession and has contributed compositions of his own as well as finely trained voices to the professional world—the musicians of the audience especially appreciated the value of Mr. Gaines' ideas as well as his admirable technique shown in artistic accompaniments.

Mr. Gaines had chosen for his subject, "The Song and the Singer," an alluring subject as old as civilization. Mr. Gaines touched at length upon melody were sung with fine interpretation by Mrs. Gaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaines supplemented the lecture with an attractive program, in which Mrs. Gaines, full, flexible mezzo-soprano and Mr. Gaines' tenor found adequate expression.

Mrs. Gaines sang two difficult arias, one purely of the old Italian style, one of the modern French, and a group of beautiful English songs.

An arrangement of Cadman's "At Dawning" as a duet by Mr. Gaines and his own patriotic composition

"folks song," those songs with illusive, vague, yet haunting melodies. "Oh Country, My Own Country" a stirring patriotic song, were featured songs, Irish, Scotch and a plantation on the program.

No Peace Possible

When President Wilson in his message to Congress, last Tuesday, announced to the world that peace was impossible until the German people themselves choose rulers whose word the world can accept, he stated a well known and regrettable truth but one which, we fear, too many of us fail to appreciate. It is one of the vital truths in connection with the whole world turmoil.

We wonder sometimes if the talkative peace advocates have ever seriously considered just what an impossibility peace is with the present masters of Germany.

Imagine, if possible, the executives of the nations of the earth, the agents of free peoples sitting at a council table to enter into a peace pact with the war lords of Germany—with the monster of Prussian militarism, the blood of thousands of innocent non-combatants, men, women and children, dripping from their swords, with the memory of the unrestricted submarine campaigns, the bombarded hospitals, the thousands of wounded slain, red cross nurses shot down and their appalling admission that treaties amount to nothing and no agreement is binding upon them.

Impossible!
There can be no peace in the world until these monsters are driven from power.

What would a peace treaty with rulers who insist there is no such thing as honor, amount to any way?

With whom then would the blantant advocates of peace have the world deal.

It is amazing that any one in all the vast domain arrayed against the Prussian war lords would think for an instant that peace was possible under present conditions.

The Savings Stamps

Carrying the immense financial burdens of the war is a privilege not alone for the comparatively few nor even to the well to do.

The government has demonstrated conclusively in the fixing of the denominations of Liberty Loan Bonds in small amounts that it desired, above all else that those in moderate circumstances be accorded the privilege of carrying some of the loan. The wisdom of that course is no longer questioned by any one.

Big business and big financial interests have done their part in the war work handsomely. The great middle classes by the millions subscribed for the bulk of the Liberty Bonds and now provision is made for those in the most modest walks of life to do their bit, in furnishing money needed by the nation to carry on the war.

At every postoffice in the land now, five dollar stamps and twenty dollar certificates can be purchased at the same rate of profit that the bond holders receive.

For those who haven't the twenty dollars or the five dollars to invest, provision has been made for a savings stamp book in which may be placed the twenty-five cent stamps later on, when filled, exchangeable for the certificates of larger denominations.

This is the people's government and this is humanity's fight against tyranny. Every one should be permitted to lend a hand and the government in calling for loans has made it possible for rich and poor alike to assist.

LaFollette Again

On Friday both houses of Congress passed the resolution declaring the existence of a state of war with Austria.

The action of the legislative branch of the government came promptly following the recommendation of the Chief Executive.

The only discord in the harmonious action of Congress was the silence of Senator Robert M. LaFollette. The Wisconsin senator willfully absented himself from the senate before the roll call of votes began.

Most people think the nation has already endured enough from LaFollette, to at least, warrant his retirement to private life. Certainly after the exhibition of Friday, there can be no doubt.

The state of Wisconsin should send to the senate of the nation a man, who can be of service and will give to the nation his wholehearted effort to assist in the great work of the time.

Robert M. LaFollette silent, sullen and antagonistic is occupying the place that should be filled by an American, who could and would do his bit. More than that LaFollette's conduct stamps him as unworthy of his trust.

His room is preferable to his company, even if his retirement didn't make room for a working patriot.

Either the Senate, or the people of Wisconsin, or both, should act, LaFollette should be taken out of the Senate and, if necessary, passed "through the lines" to those whom he is serving and with whom his sympathies seem to be.

Poetry For Today

OVER THE HILLS LIES CHRISTMAS

Over the hills lies Christmas, dancing
a Christmas glee;
Over the hills lies Christmas and the right of the Christmas tree.
And whether the cannon shatter
The walls of the world with wrath
The Child of the World shall wander
Again through the star-sown path.

Over the hills lies Christmas, singing that old song still.
Over the hills lies Christmas, bringing us life's good will.
And whether the trumpets challenge
The foe to left and right,
The Child that has made love holy
Shall come with His crown of light.

Over the hills lies Christmas, gleaming with berries of red.
Over the hills lies Christmas, and a crown on the Christ Child's head.

For whether the sword shall sever
The world from its dreams of rest
We shall find it again in the roses
Of the Child of the snow-white breast.

THE Detroit
ELECTRIC
Today's Car of Utility and Economy

A Big, Powerful Car of Smooth Performance

Especially is the Detroit Electric a powerful, able car.

Its large battery capacity will deliver eighty to one hundred miles per charge, which is in excess of a motor car's daily travel.

It gives smooth performance all of the time.

There is never any jerking or puffing when getting under way, and never any complete stop when emergency demands that you move quickly.

It "picks-up" swiftly and briskly.

Just advance the controller handle by a slight forward pressure and you are off at top speed. There are no gears to shift.

It is astonishingly flexible. Its many speeds, quick response to controller movement, and powerful, easily operated foot and controller brakes, take you through the most congested traffic with ease and safety.

It handles lightly and easily. Ball bearing steering mechanism, careful weight distribution and lever steering control, assure the handling of Detroit Electric Cars with no laborious physical exertion. Even a young girl can drive it with safety and certainty.

It is a man's car, a woman's car, and a wonderful all-year car for the entire family.

It is never "cranky" in cold weather—for it has no engine to chill, nor radiator to freeze.

You are overlooking modern advancement in motor cars if you do not investigate these facts.

15 WILD GEESSE ARE BAGGED BY HUNTERS

Fifteen wild geese, each weighing 5 pounds, were bagged by a party of four hunters, five miles east of this city, a day or two ago.

For years a large number of wild geese have wintered on the Jones and adjoining farms, east of this city, and this winter some 200 of the birds have been wintering there.

Time after time parties of hunters have endeavored to bag some of the big birds, but few have succeeded.

This time W. H. Icenhower, of this city, two men of Waverly, and M. C. Smith, vice-president of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association, went out after the birds, and killed 15 within a few hours time.

It required no little skill to get within shooting distance of the birds, but this was accomplished, and five were killed at one time. No bird was shot while on the ground.

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. held a meeting Friday afternoon for the purpose of seeking a successor to Mr. Parker.

CHICKENS ARE ONLY FIFTY PER CENT OF THE USUAL NUMBER

If eggs go to 75c to $1 per dozen before next spring, there will be a very good reason for it; the number of chickens raised the past season at about 50 per cent of the usual number.

Attractive prices of hogs and other live stock is believed responsible for neglect of the chickens, and this fact coupled with the unfavorable season for raising chicks, has made the chicken shortage very pronounced, and as a result in the big decrease, egg production will be far less than for a great many years.

Mr. Henry Brownell is authority for the statement that the number of chickens produced the past season was only one-half the usual number, and perhaps no one in Ohio can be regarded as a greater authority on poultry in general.

That there will be exceptionally good money in the raising of chickens for years to come, is very apparent.

REAL WINTER SWEEPS DOWN ON THE NATION

LAWYERS CLASH IN MEANS TRIAL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Concord, N. C., December 8.—Clashes between lawyers at the trial of Gaston B. Means, for the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, reached a point today that the Court ordered the Sheriff to remain within the bar.

The vigor with which assistant District Attorney Dooling of New York, conducted the cross examination, brought protest from the defendant's lawyers and a reprimand from the Court.

AMONG WOMEN WAR WORKERS

The following statement has been issued by Harvey D. Gibson, general manager of the Red Cross, answering a great number of inquiries which are being received by the Red Cross as to whether women should continue knitting.

It also impresses the need of haste as the cold weather, with its added suffering comes on. The knitted garments are not only greatly preferred, but are also secured at far less cost.

"The Red Cross, therefore desires to place before the women of this country its conception of the knitting situation. As is well known it is the policy of the Red Cross to supplement, so far as it has the power, the efforts of the Army and Navy in conserving health and comfort of our soldiers and sailors, either in this country or abroad.

"Sweaters and other knitted articles are designed primarily for warmth. They certainly are not ornamental. Therefore it must follow that when there is an almost universal demand on the part of our soldiers and sailors for sweaters and other knitted articles the demand is a real one. Such articles, therefore, can only be classed as equipment, supplementary though they may be, to that furnished by the Army and Navy. And they undoubtedly constitute equipment that will add greatly to the health and comfort of our men under conditions generally met with.

"The Red Cross knows that the soldiers and sailors want sweaters and other knitted articles. These goods can be obtained from the Red Cross in single garments only upon individual requests; or if in bulk, then upon the request of a commanding officer. How great the need is, is best evidenced by the fact that in addition to the hundreds of thousands of knitted articles produced by our Red Cross chapters in the last few months we have been compelled to purchase 550,000 extra sweaters alone to meet the insistent demand made upon us by our men for them. We are sorry that we had to do any purchasing at all because we know how much the soldiers and sailors of this country prefer the sweaters and other articles knitted by the women of this country.

"It may be understood further that in addition to the demands of our Army and Navy we have very urgent demands from Commissions abroad for like articles for destitute civilian populations; Men, women and children, who, if not actually homeless are very scantily clad and usually without fuel, in this cold weather, to warm their houses.

"It is hoped that this general statement will satisfy the women of this country who have been devoting all their possible time to knitting for our men. We cannot too strongly urge all women who are knitting to keep on knitting."

Splendid Work Launched by D. A. R. Red Cross Unit.

The Daughters of the American Revolution launched their new Red Cross unit with marked success at the headquarters on Friday.

Twenty-five women took up the work of making their quota of 100 bed shirts a month, with such zeal and efficiency that they had credit for 30 garments at the close of the afternoon.

The big room was a bee hive of industry, the only handicap the lack of the needed number of machines. The hardest part is over after the first shirts are made and thoroughly understood, and as the women become more familiar with the work it will progress with much more speed.

As it was the first assemblage of Daughters as a Red Cross unit, Mrs. W. B. Woodward, Regent, extended cordial welcome at the door and there was a social atmosphere that, while it did not interfere with the work, made itself pleasantly felt.

400 CHRISTMAS PACKETS WANTED FROM OLD FAYETTE

Four Hundred Christmas packages from Fayette countians are wanted by the Y. M. C. A. to distribute to the soldiers in camp, and packages to be sent are to be left at the Y. M. C. A. in this city any time during the coming week.

It is urged that Fayette county be not wanting in her response to this call for Christmas remembrances for the soldier boys. The appeal for 400 packets from friends, comes in the following letter, which is self-explanatory.

"December 6, 1917
"Mr. George H. Hitchcock,
Washington, Ohio.
"My dear Mr. Hitchcock:

"We are anxious that each man who must stay in camp over Christmas receive a special Christmas package, a present, from the Y. M. C. A. We do not want this announced in the papers generally from here, or we would be flooded with responses. We have taken it up with General Glenn and we are hereby asking that our organized association centers help us in this matter.

"We are asking, therefore, that your Association in whatever way you might desire, head up this matter and provide us with 400 packets, addressed to "My Soldier Friend." You can use this letter in getting publicity in the papers in order that packets may be brought to your buildings and shipped by express directly to us in bundles. This collection can be worked through church societies or in whatever way you think best.

"I am enclosing with this a list of suggestions. Several articles could be included in one packet, wrapped separately, and sent to us in bundles, care Christmas Committee, Army Y. M. C. A., Chillicothe, Ohio.

"Could we hear from you by return mail whether you will assist in the matter? You can quite understand that we would want these express bundles in our hands by the 20th at the latest. But in the meantime we would like to have assurance that they are coming.

"Thanking you for your co-operation, I am

"Sincerely yours,
D. W. WEIST,
"General Secretary,
"Camp Sherman,
"Chillicothe, O."

SALARY ORDINANCE OF "VOID" MEETING IS PRONOUNCED O. K.

Holding that the ordinance recently passed by the city solons at a special meeting, making the salaries of mayor and police chief $1100 per year, and providing that fees or costs be turned into the city treasury, City Solicitor Pope Gregg has instructed the publication of the ordinance so that it may become effective in the near future.

It will be recalled that the ordinance was passed Saturday night, December 1st, at a session of council called by four members, and that at least one of the members received no legal notice of the meeting, the Clerk of Council stating at the regular session Monday night December 3rd that he had not issued notices of the meeting.

At the Monday night session President of Council C. W. Sadders declared the meeting illegal, and ordered the minutes wiped off the record. This passed by without further action on the part of council, a later motion by Rowe to lay the special meeting matter on the table not being entertained, and no further objection raised by council.

It was stated that the special meeting was called so that the salary ordinance might become effective at the beginning of the new year.

HEAVY SNOWFALL ONE OF GREATEST IN RECENT YEARS

King Winter sprung a gentle little surprise on humanity during the late hours of the night, and when the people awoke Saturday morning it was to find one of the heaviest carpets of snow in recent years, and with the snow still falling rapidly, adding still more to the six or seven inches of "the beautiful."

Still more snow is indicated by the weather man, who promises to top out the big snow by some severe cold, and indicates that real winter may be expected for several days.

The streets and roads were not broken thoroughly until late Saturday morning, and the snow plows used in clearing the sidewalks were a little slow in getting in operation, so that some of the important sidewalks were not opened until around eight o'clock, causing a great deal of inconvenience to the public in general. Automobiles were comparatively few on the streets, Saturday morning, and the first ones had some difficulty in breaking the way, although the autos with the chains attached moved along without much delay.

SHOPPERS BUSY BUYING PRESENTS

Christmas shopping is on in this city in real earnest, and because of the near approach of Christmas, every day from now onward will be busy ones for Christmas shoppers.

The various stores of the city are attractively decorated and on their shelves and counters are displayed hosts of gift things, ready for the first to come.

This year as never before the trend is toward things worth while—useful articles which may be put to practical use and not stored away or broken up.

ALLEGED THIEVES ARE OUT WITHOUT BOND

Charles Beatty, Chas. Briggs, white, and Eli Brown and Pleasant Brown, colored, of Jeffersonville, charged with coal stealing from the D. T. & I. railroad, and who faced Probate Judge Allen, have been released on their own recognizance until called for trial.

The four men were arrested by D. T. & I. detectives, charged with having helped themselves to coal while trains were standing in the yards at Jeffersonville. Other arrests are expected in the near future.

SEVERAL CARS OF COAL AVAILABLE

The local coal outlook is more favorable today. Two car-loads were received late yesterday by one dealer and a portion remained from these. The same dealer has five car-loads that will be in within twenty-four hours. Another dealer also received one car of coal yesterday.

NATIONAL COMMUNITY SING EVENT OF SUNDAY

In accord with the big National Community Sing to be held all over this country on Sunday, a special Community Sing will be held at three

The High School Glee Clubs and High School Orchestra will both assist and all former members of the Glee Clubs are asked to take their places on the stage.

The program will include special concert numbers as well as the general choruses of the Community Sing and the public is not only cordially invited, but urged to participate in making the Sing enjoyable. The following program has been arranged.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

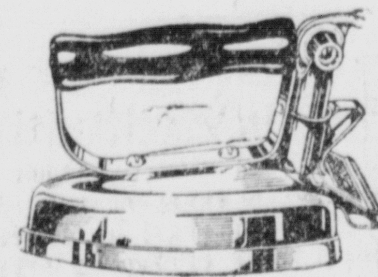

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use.

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.
